Each Contract will, subject to the parties' rights of earlier termination, continue:

for the term specified in the relevant Associated Agreement; or if no term is specified, until terminated in accordance with the relevant Associated Agreement or under the termination provisions in these terms and conditions.

Order of precedence

If there is any conflict or inconsistency between these terms and conditions and an Associated Agreement, the following order of precedence applies to the extent of that conflict or inconsistency (listed below in order of high to low priority):

each Associated Agreement (with the order of priority of the parts of each Associated Agreement being as described in the relevant Associated Agreement);

these terms and conditions.

Products, Deliverables and Services

The Supplier will provide Products, Deliverables and Services (as applicable) to the Customer:

in accordance with each Associated Agreement;

using reasonable care and skill;

using people who have the necessary skills and experience; and in accordance with all applicable laws.

If the Customer requests services which are not covered by an existing Associated Agreement, the Supplier will issue a draft of the relevant Associated Agreement to the Customer for review and acceptance or signing (as applicable). Nothing in these terms and conditions commits the Supplier to providing products or services unless an applicable Associated Agreement is agreed and signed by both parties, or accepted by the Customer in writing or signed by the Customer (as applicable).

The Customer will:

- only use the Products, Deliverables and Services, for lawful purposes and not for fraudulent, illegal or destructive purposes;
- adhere to any specific requirements or restrictions in respect of the Products, Deliverables and Services included or referenced in an Associated Agreement;
- not sell, re-sell, or otherwise provide the Products, Deliverables and Services to any third party unless such selling, re-selling, or provision is expressly permitted or anticipated in the relevant Associated Agreement;

 - iii. the use of those Products, Deliverables or Services by other customers of the Supplier or other users; or
 - iv. the systems utilised to provide the Products, Deliverables and Services.

Customer's obligations

Without limiting the Customer's obligations under any Associated Agreement, the Customer will:

- where required to provide data to the Supplier, provide that data in a format suitable for import and otherwise as reasonably requested by the Supplier;
- where the Supplier's personnel will attend on site at the Customer's premises:
 - provide a suitable and safe work environment for the Supplier's personnel while on site in accordance with all applicable health and safety legislation;
 - maintain suitable public liability insurance policies that include coverage for the Supplier's personnel while they are at the Customer's site; and
 - indemnify the Supplier, to the extent permitted by law, against any and all claims, loss or damages, including legal costs on an indemnity basis, arising from or in connection with any illness, injury or death of any of the Supplier's personnel while at the Customer's site in connection with providing the Products, Deliverables and Services, except to the extent that illness, injury or death was caused by the negligence or wilful act of that Supplier personnel;
- meet all of the Customer's obligations as specified in these terms and conditions and in each Associated Agreement;
- except and to the extent that the Supplier is providing relevant backup services under an Associated Agreement or under another written agreement between the parties:

follow the Supplier's reasonable directions.

Pricing and payment

Each Associated Agreement will specify the basis of the Supplier's charges for the relevant supply of Products, Deliverables and Services and the Supplier will invoice the Customer accordingly. All amounts specified in an Associated Agreement are exclusive of any taxes unless expressly specified otherwise.

If GST is payable in respect of a supply made under or in relation to an Associated Agreement, the Customer must pay to the Supplier, an amount equal to the GST payable on the supply ('GST Amount'). The GST Amount is payable by the Customer in addition to and at the same time as any consideration for the supply.

Unless otherwise specified in an Associated Agreement, all invoices issued by the Supplier are due for payment by the Customer on the 20th of the month following the date of the invoice.

All reasonable accommodation, travel and other expenses incurred in providing Products, Deliverables and Services to the Customer will be charged to the Customer provided that such expenses are identified and agreed in advance. Expenses will be invoiced on a monthly basis by the Supplier.

Subject to clause 6.6, the Customer must pay all invoices in full without set-off or deduction of any kind.

If the Customer wishes to dispute an invoice, it must notify the Supplier in writing within 21 days of the date of the invoice and provide details of the dispute. The Customer may withhold payment of the disputed part of an invoice only and must pay that part (or any amount subsequently agreed or determined to be the correct amount owing) promptly on resolution of the dispute.

Without limiting any other remedies available to the Supplier for late payment or failure to pay any amount due, if any amount due is not paid by the Customer by the due date, the Supplier may:

charge the Customer interest calculated at 1.5% per month on the balance of the amount due by the Customer from the due date until payment is received in full by the Supplier; and/or charge the Customer all collection costs reasonably incurred by the Supplier in collection of the amount outstanding (including solicitor and/or collection agency fees); and/or on 5 Working Days' notice in writing, suspend delivery of further Products, Deliverables and Services under the relevant Contract and/or any other Contract and/or may suspend delivery of services or deliverables under any other agreement between the Supplier and the Customer until the outstanding amount is paid in full.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant Associated Agreement:

the Supplier may increase its pricing from time to time but not more often than once every 12 months;

the Supplier will give the Customer one month's notice in writing of any price increase.

Taxes

In addition to the amounts due under clause 6, the Customer will pay the Supplier amounts equal to any applicable government taxes or duties however designated, based on the relevant Contract (or the Products, Deliverables and/or Services provided under it), paid or payable by the Supplier in respect of the foregoing, exclusive however of taxes based on the Supplier's income.

Customer Data

The Customer will:

provide and make Customer Data available to the Supplier only to the extent required for the purposes of the relevant Contract;

where practical, and particularly in the case of Personal Information, obfuscate Customer Data prior to providing or making the Customer Data available to the Supplier.

Subject to clause 8.3, the Supplier will access the Customer Data only as required in the performance of the relevant Contract.

Without limiting clause 9 or clause 10.2, the Supplier will only access the Customer Data and disclose the Customer Data to law enforcement or government authorities to the extent required by law. If a request for Customer Data is made by a law enforcement agency or government authority (whether directly to the Supplier or through Microsoft or a third party vendor), the Supplier will redirect the request to the Customer or if redirection is not permitted or feasible in the available time frame and unless legally prohibited from doing so, the Supplier will notify the Customer of the request as soon as practically possible.

The Customer warrants that the Customer has the right and authority to deal with the Customer Data in the manner contemplated by the relevant Contract.

Nothing in a Contract transfers ownership of the Customer Data to the Supplier.

Personal Information

Before providing Personal Information to the Supplier, the Customer will obtain all required consents from third parties (including the Customer's contacts, partners, distributors, administrators, and employees) to that Personal Information being made available to the Supplier and used as anticipated by the relevant Contract.

Each party will comply with the applicable Data Protection Laws in respect of any breach of privacy.

Confidential Information

Each party agrees to:

hold in confidence all Confidential Information disclosed to it by the other party and disclose that information to its directors, employees and contractors only to the extent required in the performance of the Contract;

ensure that all Confidential Information is protected at all times from unauthorised access or use by, or disclosure to, any third party or misuse, damage or destruction by any person.

A party may disclose the other party's Confidential Information if and to the extent required by law if it first notifies the other party of the obligation to disclose the Confidential Information, provided that a party is not required to notify the other party under this clause if it is not legally permitted to do so or if the timing within which the party is required by law to disclose the Confidential Information does not permit notification to the other party.

Intellectual property

The Supplier or its licensors own the Intellectual Property in the means, methods, processes and know-how used by the Supplier to provide the Products, Deliverables and Services and to otherwise perform the Supplier's obligations under the Associated Agreements.

The provisions relating to Intellectual Property ownership in relation to particular Products, Deliverables and Services are included in the relevant Associated Agreement.

Warranties

Each party warrants that it has all requisite right, power and authority to enter into each Contract.

Except as provided under clause 12.1 and in any express warranties contained in an Associated Agreement, to the extent permitted by law, all warranties, terms and conditions (including without limitation, warranties and conditions as to fitness for purpose and merchantability) implied by legislation or otherwise, are excluded by the Supplier.

The Supplier provides no warranty or guarantee:

that any result or objective not specified in an Associated Agreement can or will be achieved or attained through the provision of the Products, Deliverables and Services; or as to the suitability of the Products, Deliverables and Services for any purpose other than that specified in an Associated Agreement, which the Supplier may interpret, and apply using its experience, skill and judgment, to provide the Services.

Nothing in these terms and conditions is intended to exclude, restrict or modify an applicable consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law.

Termination of Contracts

Except where a Contract has a fixed term or where otherwise provided under a Contract, either party may terminate a Contract at any time without cause on giving thirty days' notice in writing to the other party.

Either party may terminate a Contract immediately (or with effect from any later date that it may nominate) by written notice to the other party if:

one or more Insolvency Events occurs in relation to that other party but only if permitted by and/or in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth). For the purposes of this clause, 'Insolvency Event' means, in respect of a party (other than for the purpose of solvent reconstruction or amalgamation):

a receiver, manager or liquidator is appointed over the party's undertaking or assets or the party enters into any assignment, composition or arrangement with its creditors; or the party is unable to pay its debts when due or is deemed unable to pay its debts under any law or suspends payment to its creditors.

the other party commits a material breach of any of its obligations under the Contract and fails to remedy that breach within 30 days of prior written notice of such breach. For the purposes of this clause 13.2 (b), non-payment by the Customer for a period of 30 days or more after due date of any undisputed invoice constitutes a material breach by the Customer.

Additional rights of termination that apply to individual Associated Agreements may be included in each of those agreements.

Consequences of termination

On termination of a Contract, in addition to any other consequences of termination included in the relevant Associated Agreement, and unless otherwise agreed in writing in the relevant Associated Agreement, and without limiting either party's rights or remedies:

each party will, on request, return the other's Confidential Information in its possession or control in respect of that Contract except for copies that it may be required to hold for compliance, audit or legal reasons;

all amounts owed to the Supplier under the Contract which accrued before termination will be due and payable in accordance with the payment terms in that Contract;

the Supplier will deliver to the Customer all Deliverables for which for which the Customer has paid in full.

On any termination of a Contract, all clauses which by their nature survive termination, will survive the termination.

Liability and indemnity

To the extent permitted by law and subject to clause 15.3, the Supplier's liability under a Contract is limited to direct loss only.

Save for where the Supplier has been wilfully negligent and caused the Customer direct loss, to the extent permitted by law and subject to clause 15.3, in no event is the Supplier liable for any indirect loss or for any loss of profits, lost savings, loss of data, business interruption, incidental or special damages, or for any Consequential Loss. In addition, the Supplier is not liable for any damages claimed by the Customer based on any third party claim, including, but not limited to, any claim in negligence. In no event is the Supplier liable for any damages caused (whether directly or indirectly) by the Customer not accepting or not acting on a recommendation made to the Customer in writing by the Supplier or by the Customer's failure to perform its responsibilities under the relevant Contract.

If a consumer guarantee applies to a Contract or goods or services provided by the Supplier and the Supplier is liable for a breach of that guarantee, then to the extent permitted by law, the Supplier's liability is limited, at the Supplier's option:

in the case of goods, to the replacement or repair of the goods; or the supply of equivalent goods; or the cost of replacing or repair of the goods; or the cost of acquiring equivalent goods; and in the case of services, to the resupply of those services or the cost of resupply, and the Customer acknowledges and agrees that having regard to the commercial terms for the provisions of the goods and or services it is fair and reasonable for the Supplier to rely on the above limitations and that without the benefit of the limitations, among other things, the charges would be higher.

The Customer indemnifies the Supplier against any costs (including legal costs on a solicitor and own client basis, all and any court costs and witness fees and related legal expenses), expenses, claims, demands or liability whether direct, indirect or otherwise, and whether arising in contract, tort (including negligence), equity or otherwise, arising out of, and must at the Supplier's request, and subject to clause 15.5 and any reasonable conditions imposed at the Supplier's discretion, at the Customer's own cost defend or settle, any claim, action or proceedings brought against the Supplier in connection with:

use of any Product, Deliverables and Services otherwise than in accordance with the relevant Contract; or a breach by the Customer of any Contract.

If the Supplier wishes to rely on an indemnity under clause 15.4, the Supplier:

must ensure that the Customer is notified promptly in writing of the relevant claim, action or proceedings ("Claim") once it becomes aware of the Claim;

will make no admission of liability regarding the Claim nor any offers of settlement regarding the Claim without the Customer's written approval;

may, at its discretion, grant control of the defence or settlement to the Customer;

will, where the Supplier has granted control of the defence or settlement negotiations to the Customer:

co-operate reasonably with the Customer in defending or settling the Claim and make its employees available to give statements, advice and evidence, as the Customer may reasonably request, all at the expense of the Customer; and give the Customer sufficient authority and relevant information in its possession or control in order to assist the Customer to conduct the defence of the Claim and all negotiations for its settlement or compromise.

Dispute Resolution

In the event of any dispute arising between the parties in relation to a Contract, no party may commence any proceedings relating to the dispute (except where the party seeks urgent injunctive or interlocutory relief) unless that party has complied with the procedures in this clause 16.

The party initiating the dispute ("the first party") must provide written notice of the dispute to the other party ("the other party") and nominate in that notice the first party's representative for the negotiations. The other party must within fourteen days of receipt of the notice, give written notice to the first party naming its representative for the negotiations ("Other Party's Notice"). Each nominated representative will have authority to settle or resolve the dispute. The parties will co-operate with each other and endeavour to resolve the dispute through discussion and negotiation.

If the parties are unable to resolve the dispute by discussion and negotiation within 14 days of receipt of the written notice from the first party, either party may refer the dispute to mediation.

If the dispute is referred to mediation, the mediation must be conducted in terms of the Resolution Institute Australia Standard Mediation Agreement. The mediation must be conducted by a mediator and at a fee agreed by the parties. Failing agreement being reached between the parties as to the mediator and/or fee within three weeks of the dispute being referred to mediation, the mediator will be appointed by and his/her fee determined by the Law Society of the state or territory in which the Supplier is domiciled.

If the dispute is not resolved within two months following the date of the Other Party's Notice (or such longer period as may be agreed in writing by the parties), either party may utilise any other legal remedies available to it in seeking to resolve the dispute.

Non-Solicitation

Neither party will, without the written consent of the other party, solicit, employ, or otherwise engage the services of, the other party's personnel (including employees and contractors) who has been involved in providing or receiving (as applicable) the Product, Deliverables and Services. This clause will apply from commencement of the first Contract between the parties and will continue until there has been no Contract between the parties for a continuous period of six months (and if there is subsequently a Contract between the parties the non-solicitation period will re-commence).

A party may as a condition of granting its consent under clause 17.1 above, require the other party to pay to it a fee of 50% of the person's gross annual remuneration to cover the cost of replacing the employee or contractor.

Notices

Any notice or other communication in connection with a Contract must be:

marked for the attention of the primary contact person and delivered or sent to the address of the other party by prepaid post or email, as set out in the relevant Associated Agreement.

Notices or other communications are deemed received:

if delivered by hand, on delivery;

if delivered by post:

on the fifth Working Day following posting if sent and received within Melbourne metropolitan; and on the tenth day following posting if posted internationally; or if sent by email, on sending the email provided that no email is successfully sent if the sender receives any type of delivery notification failure.

Force majeure

Either party may suspend its obligations to perform under a Contract if it is unable to perform as a direct result of a Force Majeure Event. Any such suspension of performance must be limited to the period during which the Force Majeure Event continues.

Where a party's obligations have been suspended pursuant to clause 19.1 for a period of 30 days or more, the other party may immediately terminate the Contract by giving notice in writing to the other party.

General

Assignment:

Subject to clause 20.1(b), neither the Customer nor the Supplier is permitted to assign its rights under a Contract without the prior written consent of the other party.

The Supplier may, without the consent of the Customer, assign its rights under a Contract to an assignee that it reasonably considers has the personnel, skills, experience and resources to perform the Contract. The Supplier will notify the Customer of any assignment made pursuant to this clause 20.1(b) prior to the assignment unless it is not permitted to do so in which case it will notify the Customer as soon as practical following the assignment.

Contractors: The Supplier may perform its obligations under a Contract by the use of the Supplier-selected independent contractors.

Other agreements: Subject to clauses 10 and 11, nothing in these terms and conditions prevents the Supplier from entering into similar agreements with others that are the same or similar to any Contract entered into with the Customer or from providing products, deliverables or services which are the same or similar to the Products, Deliverables or Services provided under a Contract.

Entire agreement: Each Contract constitutes the complete and exclusive statement of the agreement between the parties, superseding all proposals or prior agreements, oral or written, and all other communications between the parties relating to the subject matter of that Contract.

Further assurances: The parties must each do all such further acts (and sign any documents), as may be necessary or desirable for effecting the transactions contemplated by the Contract.

Amendments: Except as specifically provided in a Contract, no amendment to a Contract will be effective unless:

the amendment is in writing and signed by both parties (if the relevant Associated Agreement was signed by both parties):

the amendment is in writing and signed by the Customer (if the relevant Associated Agreement was such that only the Customer needed to sign the Associated Agreement); or the amendment is in writing and accepted in the same manner that, in accordance with the Associated Agreement, the Associated Agreement was made.

Waiver: No exercise or failure to exercise or delay in exercising any right or remedy by a party will constitute a waiver by that party of that or any other available right or remedy.

Partial invalidity: If any provision of a Contract or its application to any party or circumstance is or becomes invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of the Contract and its application will not be affected and will remain enforceable to the greatest extent permitted by law.

Relationship of the Parties: The parties agree that the Supplier is an independent contractor to the Customer and that nothing in these terms and conditions or any Contract constitutes a partnership, joint venture or relationship of employer and employee between the parties. Neither party may:

act or hold itself out as an agent or representative of the other party; or assume or create any obligations on behalf of the other party.

Governing Law

Each Contract is governed by the laws of the State of Victoria, Australia. The parties hereby submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Victoria, Australia.

Modern Slavery Compliance

In performing its obligations in connection with these terms and conditions, the Supplier will ensure that it and its personnel comply with all Modern Slavery Laws which may apply to the Supplier.

The Supplier certifies that:

22.1.1 to the best of its knowledge and belief, it confirms there is no Modern Slavery in its supply chains or in any part of their business; and

22.1.2 neither it nor its personnel have been convicted of any offence involving Modern Slavery; and 22.1.3 to the best of its knowledge, having made reasonable enquiries, neither it nor its personnel have been or are the subject of any investigations, inquiry or enforcement proceedings by any government agency regarding any offence or alleged offence of, or in connection with, Modern Slavery.
